Hassan Kotb

Data Analyst – Computer Industry
Cairo, Egypt

Summary

I am a Data Analyst with 4 years of experience in data analytics, business intelligence. I began my career at Ipsos, where I built dashboards and delivered data visualization solutions for research teams. I then worked on a Microsoft (CNX Vendor) project, focusing on sales analysis, reporting, and performance insights to support data-driven decision-making. Currently, I am at IDC, working as a Data Analyst in the computer industry, where I develop dashboards, reports, and analytical insights to support technology research and business intelligence. I work with tools such as Excel, SQL, Python, Power BI, Tableau, and AI tools to analyze data, build dashboards, and generate actionable insights that improve decision-making and business performance.
